LOCAL.

We notice the arrival by to-day's Mail of Mr. E. W. Lewis, who will be remembered as connected with the entertainments of Madame Bishop during her late visit to this Colony. Mr. Lewis brings with him a Concert Party and Burlesque troupe which appears to have had great success in India. Amongst the performers is Miss Marian Ridgway, a lady violinist of great talent. We trust that Mr. Lewis' troupe will meet with due encouragement in spite of the depressed state of matters in China. It is to be hoped that he will secure a suitable room for their performances.

Heng Chen Wu v. Héan Sack, $319.70, for goods sold.—Spite of the large sum here involved, defendant did not appear, and judgment went by default.

Leong Ahd v. Joseph J. Burt, $17.50.—Defendant did not appear, and judgment was given against him.

B. Muncherjee v. L. Sequeira, $14—for rent.—Judgment for plaintiff. Defendant is the lady whose unstamped promissory note was impounded last Court day, and who was fined $1 by the Magistrate the other day for the said offence.

Sam v. F. A. Maral, $19.90—for rent and a pair of boots. Defendant made an energetic defence, and swore in a most demonstrative manner that the boots had been forced upon him by the plaintiff. Judgment was, however, given against defendant, upon which he asked for time. This being refused, defendant stated that he had been twenty years in the Colony, and that he could produce any amount of certificates to show that he was a mercantile community. Even with these particulars inserted, without each subscriber possessing a copy of the returns, which are moreover filled up in handwriting, it is difficult to understand the nature of the expenses adverted to in the prospectus as necessitating a charge of $2 to each subscriber per month, a sum which in all fairness should have been for half-yearly subscription. Instead of giving under the heads of arrivals and departures, the names of the river steamers, a list of sailing vessels in the port with the names of consignees would be more desirable.

The all-absorbing topic of the day is of course our approaching Races to be followed by balls, theatricals, picnics and other jovial demonstrations. Consequently our little settlement promises to be unending during the current week by a fair gathering of both sexes from the aristocracy of Hongkong. Young Canton will doubtless be in the very zenith of gaiety.

Chong Fooat, it is said, is on the track after brigands. Some nights ago His Excellency with an escort of seventy or eighty soldiers suddenly put in his appearance at certain suspicious localities in the suburbs. It is thought that this move on the part of His Excellency had the effect of expediting a settlement between Yeo Loong, and his kidnappers on easier terms than was expected—three or four hundred taels of gold having been the sum "squeezed."

Defendant stated that he detained plaintiff on suspicion of having stolen his watch and chain, but was not aware that he had lost any money; if so, it must have dropped from his pocket when attempting to run away.

His Honor, after consulting the Ordinances, stated that the plaintiff could not take advantage of both Courts regarding the assault, and he sued now for the assault. Defendant (mate) was not liable after having been fined by the Magistrate. He could not give any more damages for the injury suffered by the imprisonment. He could only deal with the question of plaintiff's alleged loss of $7.60.

Defendant stated that he detained plaintiff on suspicion of having stolen his watch and chain, but was not aware that he had lost any money; if so, it must have dropped from his pocket when attempting to run away.

His Honor said that, if such was the case, defendant would be liable.

The case was adjourned pending the receipt of the Magistrate's decision in writing, but as this could not be obtained, and the case appeared to be of a non-ending kind, parties agreed to settle it between themselves.

ARRIVAL OF THE MAIL.

The P. & O. steamer Benares, Captain McCulloch, from Bombay with date to the 16th, Galle 22nd, Penang 27th and Singapore 29th instant, bringing the Europe Mails of 20-26th Nov., arrived this morning.

The Benares carries 1,306 chests Malwa Opium and 150 bales Cotton for China. The last Bombay prices for the former drug averaged Rs. 1,475 per chest.

The specie by the present Mail is as follows:—In silver, to Hongkong, £24,557 on Government account; to Shanghai, £20,250 total in silver, £20,807.

The Ocean steamer Ajza, Captain Kidd, from Liverpool with date to the 17th Oct., having called at Mauritius and Penang, which latter port she left on the 21st Inst. in tow of the British Indian steamer Maharaja, owing to her screw having slipped off the shaft, whilst leaving Penang harbour—arrived at Tanjung Pagar last Wednesday afternoon. She was going into dock on the 13th ult. to repair her screw. We (Singapore paper) believe that Maharaja was paid $2,000 to tow the Ajza from Penang to this port.

Most of the telegrams were anticipated by the Reuter. The following are the only additional ones:

Bombay, 30 December.—The first of a batch of twenty elephants for Abyssinia were shipped on Saturday last on board the transport Umptas. The transport Hohenmant will take the next batch of twenty-six elephants.

The second Brigade of the Abyssinian Field Force consisting of the Third and Fifth Batteries, the Twenty-first Royal Artillery, the Fourth King's Own, the Third, and Twenty-fifth Native Infantry, embarked on the 11th and 13th instant.

Bombay, 30 December.—News has been received from Abyssinia up to the 29th October.

One thousand more miles are urged to be travelled—Splendid roads have been pushed in all directions. The route selected is the Soozoo pass which is of easy ascent to the summits of the highlands. Mr. Austin, the Times' correspondent, had arrived. Good news has been received from the army up to the 26th October: King Theodore is supposed to be at Debra Tabor. The sanitary condition of the army is excellent. The army expects a hearty reception, as the country is fearfully disorganized. The advance brigade was to march towards Senafit. The road in this case, it appears, was made previous to the advancement of the Stamp Act.

Kay & Co. v. J. Collaco, $5.65.—Defendant did not appear, and judgment went by default.

Lai Apeng v. J. Collaco, $5.65.—On a promissory note—Defendant in this case illustrates as a clerk in the Hongkong Gas Company's office and was held for the sum above stated by plaintiff who is a washerman. The promissory note, plaintiff stated, was given to him by defendant on November 30th, and as it was unsecured it was at once impounded. Defendant appeared to-day in somewhat novel form

ADMIRALTY COURT.—THE NINA.

The Nina, a Portuguese ship, was arrested at Cardiff at the suit of Charles La Blache, for wages and disbursements, and the Court was moved to order a release of the vessel with costs and damages against the plaintiff. The case was that he was at Havannah in March last, and was engaged to navigate the Nina from that port to Glasgow, thence to Hongkong and Macao, and from Macao back to Havannah with a cargo of coloquines. That his wages were to be £218 per month, and an allowance of 10s. for every coloquine landed at Havannah. That, in consequence of being a British subject, he could not by the commercial law of Portugal command the ship; therefore it was arranged between him and the nominal captain, F. D. P. Almeida, the plaintiff, to sign articles as "pilot" or mate; but that he, in reality, was to command the ship, and that he had the entire control of her during the voyage from Havannah to Greenwich. At Greenwich disputes arose between Almeida and the plaintiff, who left the ship and sent in a claim for the sum of £324 for wages, and £286 bonus upon the 670 coloquines it was proposed to take from Macao to Havannah. This claim being disputed, the vessel was arrested by process issued in Scotland, but the vessel, in consequence of being a British subject, was not by the commercial law of Portugal entitled to command the ship; therefore it was arranged between him and the nominal captain, F. D. P. Almeida, the plaintiff, to sign articles as "pilot" or mate; but that he, in reality, was to command the ship, and that he had the entire control of her during the voyage from Havannah to Greenwich. At Greenwich disputes arose between Almeida and the plaintiff, who left the ship and sent in a claim for the sum of £324 for wages, and £286 bonus upon the 670 coloquines it was proposed to take from Macao to Havannah. It is worthy of remark that this is the first ship to be despatched from this colony for that destination. Ships are wanted to load at Newcastle for Hongkong at 35s.; Shanghai, 47s.; Bombay, 50s.; Madras coast, 35s.; Java, 30s. In the early part of the month, 30s. was offered for Madras, but that rate is not now obtainable. Several ships are still wanted for the conveyance of Dr. Calcutta. Ships are eagerly inquired for to load at Calcutta and the rice ports for Europe, but the scarcity of ships, and the employment offering direct home, precludes all hope of anything being done in this direction. The inter-colonial trade may be said to be generally quiet, although a rise has taken place in Coal freight, and 20s. has been paid from Newcastle to Melbourne, but this rate is not now procurable, and engagements are now being made at 18s.

During the whole time that the criminals remained the clergy continued their prayers audibly. Before the bodies had been buried for about half-an-hour the crowd, with the exception of the special constables, almost entirely dispersed. About the middle of the day the bodies were buried, without form or ceremony, in the gaol. Within half-an-hour after the bodies were taken down, the streets of Manchester were as quiet and as dreary almost as if it were Sunday; and so passed over, without word or sign, either of approval or dissent, the first Fenian executions for murder in Great Britain.

NEWS OF DR. LIVINGSTONE.

The Bombay Gazette has the latest intelligence of Dr. Livingstone as follows:—H.M. sloop of war Tyra arrived in Bombay Harbour on Saturday night from Zanzibar. She left Trincomalee on the 29th Aug., and afterwards went to Socotra, Nos. Beh, Musidagase, Mozambique, and Zambezi, sailing from the last-mentioned place for this port on the 12th October.

The Tyra has brought a fragment of news

which though perhaps not of a conclusive

assuring character, will be of interest to all who have known or heard of Dr.

Livingstone. It appears that about the middle of September an Arab—either a trader or a slave—

arrived in Zanzibar from the part of the country in which the traveller,

if still alive, was likely enough to have been,

and he reported that he had seen a white man, whose name he does not know, to have learned.

He was shown at Zanzibar an album of cards de visite which included one of Dr. Livingstone, and was asked to turn them over and see if he found a photograph bearing a resemblance to the man he had seen. As a matter of fact he pointed to the likeness of the Doctor, but he said

his appearance was somewhat altered now,

there being for one thing more hair on his face. It was generally believed in Zanzibar that the man referred to was no other than Dr. Livingstone, and it was thought that letters might be expected from him.

In regard to Baron Von Decken, it appears that his native仆人, who had been attacked at the time when his party was attacked and was induced to go back to

if he could find any trace of his master,

had returned to Zanzibar bringing with him

the traveller's chronometer and from the statement he made there seemed to be no

hope that the Baron might be still alive.

The man reported that he had seen

the Baron's steamer, sunk in the water and that nothing in it, appeared to have been touched, the natives having probably been deterred by a fear of proclivities,

from attempting to recover the machinery and turning it up to spear heads and other instruments of savage warfare.

Amongst the mails which the Tyra has brought we have no doubt there are despatches to Government stating what has transpired with reference to Dr. Livingstone, and we trust they will be communicated soon to the Press.

MELBOURNE COMMERCIAL.

The following is from the Melbourne Journal of Commerce, Nov. 27th:—
